“ Alternative dance act Gunslinger takes Christmas Day hostage, transforming Avalon's stage into an extended after-party, along with trance rockers Infected Mushroom and Randy Seidman. Gunslinger, the electro trance-inspired baby of LA-based DJ Chris Anthem, has played alongside some of the biggest names in dance, including Tiesto and Paul Van Dyk. Tonight, he'll navigate the evening-to-day bash with a progressive rise in beats, including a selection of tunes from his critically-acclaimed debut CD Early Volumes 1, an "epic song-oriented journey through the worlds of electro, trance, and rock." ”

Julian Hooper, Flavorpill

Gunslinger says...

Gunslinger is the new sound of alternative dance. With roots as a singer/songwriter and rock band front man, Gunslinger pairs past with present, blending classic song structure and vocals with years of professional electro and trance experience to create one of the most natural and creative sounds of any genre. Gunslinger fires from an arsenal of varied influences and medium, with songs that electrify any venue, from dance floor to home stereo.
